

Sara Ackerman, Associate Professor, University of California, San Francisco

Titre : Toward Patient and Public Involvement in Health Data Governance

Discipline : Anthropology

Juillet 2024

Noah Adams, PhD Student, University of Toronto

Titre : The Right to Say Yes: An Institutional Ethnography of Transgender/Autistic Group Formation and the impact of these groups on Confronting Challenges to Autistic People's Capacity to Consent to Transgender Healthcare

Discipline : Bioethics - Medical Ethics

Août-septembre 2024

Kumeri Bandara, Ms.- PhD Student, University of Oxford

Titre : Disrupting epistemic injustice: mapping ethical challenges faced by health and care professionals in UK care homes

Discipline : Anthropology

Février-mars 2024

Susanne Bauer, Professor, Dr. , TIK Centre for Technology, Innovation and Culture, University of Oslo

Titre : Knowledge Infrastructures and Data Genealogies in Nuclear Epidemiology

Discipline : Global | Public Health

Septembre 2024

Sophie Bjork-James, Assistant Professor, Vanderbilt University

Titre : Practicing medicine with one's hands tied: How abortion bans impact the practice of healthcare in Tennessee

Discipline : Anthropology

Septembre 2024

Arthur Blume, Professor of Clinical Psychology, Washington State University

Titre : Indigenous Bioethics: Examining Pandemic Planning and Other Global Health Challenges through Collectivist Lenses

Discipline : Bioethics - Medical ethics

Juillet 2024

Gabriela Bortz, Assistant Researcher, CONICET

Titre : COVID-19 vaccines in Latin America: capabilities, imaginaries, and State making. Lessons from Argentina and Brazil

Discipline : Political Science

Avril 2024

Esther Braun, Postdoctoral Researcher, Ruhr University Bochum

Titre : The ethics of mitochondrial replacement techniques for treating infertility

Discipline : Bioethics - Medical ethics

Septembre 2024

Federico Burdman, Senior Lecturer, University of Buenos Aires

Titre : Addiction and autonomy: a philosophical perspective on informed consent and the status of addiction as a disease.

Discipline : Bioethics - Medical ethics

Février-mars 2024

Monica Casper, Professor and Associate Dean, University of Arizona

Titre : Dying for Birth: Maternal Mortality, Race, and Human Rights

Discipline : Sociology

Avril 2024

Talita Cetinoglu, PhD Lecturer, University of Groningen

Titre : Towards a rights-based governance framework to achieve health system resilience: The study of power, voice and politics at multiple scales

Discipline : Humanitarian

Juillet 2024

Sen Tugba, PhD Student, University of South California

Titre : Towards a rights-based governance framework to achieve health system resilience: The study of power, voice and politics at multiple scales

Discipline : Humanitarian

Juillet 2024

Volkan Yilmaz, Assistant Professor of Public Policy, Dublin City University

Titre : Towards a rights-based governance framework to achieve health system resilience: The study of power, voice and politics at multiple scales

Discipline : Humanitarian

Juillet 2024

Paola Daniore, PhD Researcher, Institute for Implementation Science in Healthcare

Titre : The role of digitalization in advancing healthcare: are digital research methods legitimized in Switzerland?

Discipline : Bioethics - Medical Ethics

Juillet 2024

Michiel De Proost, Postdoctoral Researcher, Ghent University

Titre : Ethical Principles After Disruption

Discipline : Bioethics - Medical Ethics

Février 2024

Amarasiri De Silva, Adjunct Professor, University of Pittsburgh

Titre : Poverty, Colonialism, and Disease: Chronic Kidney Disease of Unknown Etiology in Sri Lanka

Discipline : Poverty, Colonialism, and Disease: Chronic Kidney Disease of Unknown Etiology in Sri Lanka

Février-mars 2024

Lisa Eckenwiler, Professor and Chair, Department of Philosophy, George Mason University

Titre : Placemaking and Health Justice

Discipline : Bioethics - Medical ethics

Août 2024

Isabelle Faber, PhD Student, UTS (University of Technology, Sydney)

Titre : Midwives involved in disciplinary proceedings, which have resulted in protective orders imposing conditions on the midwife's registration. An analysis of published decisions spanning from 2010 to 2022.

Discipline : Bioethics - Medical ethics

Septembre 2023

Mirjam Faissner, Dr. med. M.A. , Ruhr University Bochum, Institute for Medical Ethics and History of Medicine

Titre : Theorizing a discrimination-critical, structurally oriented, mental healthcare ethics

Discipline : Bioethics - Medical ethics

Septembre 2024

Florian Funer, MD, MA, Magtheol (Academic Researcher), Institut für Ethik und Geschichte der Medizin, Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen

Titre : Pushing the boundaries of advance healthcare directives under conditions of compromised decision-making capacity

Discipline : Bioethics - Medical Ethics

Mars-avril 2024

Alexa Hagerty, Dr, Affiliate Minderoo Centre for Technology and Democracy, University of Cambridge

Titre : Algorithmic Expectations

Discipline : Anthropology

Juillet 2024

Ashley Kennedy, Associate Professor of Philosophy, Florida Atlantic University

Titre : Child Labor in the Global Context

Discipline : Philosophy

Août 2024

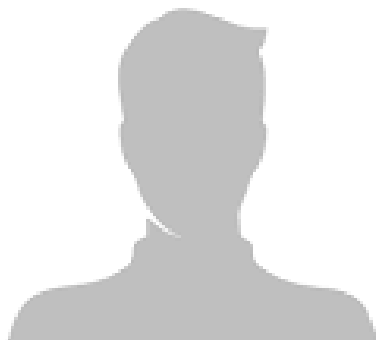

Tsung-Ling Lee, Associate Professor of Law, Taipei Medical University

Titre : Digital health and (in)justice? human rights and healthcare in Asia

Discipline : Global | Public Health

Mars 2024

Jing-Ru Li, Dr and Research Assistant, General Practice and Rural Health Department, University of Otago

Titre : More than a cultural norm: an examination of the cultural difference argument for family-oriented informed consent in China

Discipline : Bioethics - Medical ethics

Mars-avril 2024

Mara Linden, M.A., Research Associate, Goethe University Frankfurt

Titre : Global health in crisis? Global health politics between economic rationality, securitisation and emergency response

Discipline : Geography

Février-mars 2024

Miriam Lipton, PhD Candidate, Oregon State University

Titre : Bacteriophages and Antibiotics: The History of Cold War Politics of Antibiotic Resistance

Discipline : Global | Public Health

Février-mars 2024

Brenna McCaffrey, PhD Anthropology, CUNY Graduate Center

Titre : The Abortion Pill: A Social History

Discipline : Anthropology

Juillet-août 2024

Martha Montello, Lecturer, Harvard Medical School

Titre : Narrative Ethics in Clinical Medicine

Discipline : Bioethics - Medical ethics

Avril 2024

Samantha Moore, PhD Student, University of Manitoba

Titre : Purity, Pollution, and Exclusion: An Ethnographic Examination of Female Sex Workers and their Bodily Entanglements in HPV-related Illness and Intervention in Nairobi, Kenya

Discipline : Anthropology

Juillet-août 2024

John Nott, Dr, Researcher Fellow, University of Edinburgh

Titre : Epidemic Efficiencies: Data, Demography and Disease in Africa's Long Twentieth Century

Discipline : Epidemiology

Février 2024

Prashanth Nuggehalli Srinivas, Faculty & Wellcome Trust/DBT India Alliance Fellow, Institute of Public Health, Bangalore

Titre : Towards Health Equity and transformative action on tribal health (THETA)

Discipline : Epidemiology

Septembre 2024

Lundi-Anne Omam, Ms and PhD Candidate, University of Cambridge

Titre : Primary Health Care delivery models in Conflict settings of Cameroon and Nigeria

Discipline : Global | Public Health

Février-mars 2024

Stéphanie Pache, Assistant Professor, Université du Québec à Montréal

Titre : The ethics of pop medicine": women's health and medical expertise in popular literature on hormones"

Discipline : Bioethics - Medical ethics

Août-septembre 2024

Michael Pettit, Professor, York University

Titre : An Empire of Resilience? Psychological Science and the Remaking of Humanitarian Interventions

Discipline : Global | Public Health

Juillet 2024

Chimwemwe Phiri, PhD Candidate, Durham University

Titre : A comparative investigation of visual representations of tropical diseases in early twentieth century Malawi and Sudan

Discipline : Anthropology

Février-mars 2024

Benoît Pouget, Associate Professor, Sciences Po Aix

Titre : French Armies & Blood transfusions during first indochina War 1946-1956

Discipline : Global | Public Health

Février-mars 2024

Omar Salih Rasheed, PhD Student, University of Almeria

Titre : Mental health interventions in low and middle income countries affected by humanitarian crises: a systematic review (Bourse Humanitaire)

Discipline : Humanitarian

Août-septembre 2024

Sadie Regmi, DPhil (PhD) Student, University of Oxford

Titre : Just Lockdown? The ethics and politics of public health policy during emergencies

Discipline : Bioethics - Medical Ethics

Août-septembre 2024

Julia Rijssenbeek, PhD Candidate, Wageningen University and Research

Titre : Conception and ethical treatment of life in synthetic biology and in the life sciences

Discipline : Bioethics - Medical Ethics

Avril 2024

Atul Sangith, PhD Researcher, Université Libre de Brussels (ULB)

Titre : Defining Frameworks within Collaborative Multi-Stakeholder Partnerships to Enhance Access to Medicines in Low- and Middle-Income Countries

Discipline : Bioethics - Medical ethics

Mars-avril 2024

Tsutomu Sawai, Associate Professor, Hiroshima University

Titre : Ethical and legal framework for human brain organoid research

Discipline : Bioethics - Medical ethics

Juillet-août 2024

Jana Sedlakova, PhD Researcher, Institute of Biomedical Ethics and History of Medicine, Digital Society Initiative, University of Zurich

Titre : Normative framework for Humanization of Healthcare Chatbots

Discipline : Bioethics - Medical ethics

Juillet 2024

Laura Sheard, Associate Professor, University of York

Titre : A longitudinal look at Long Covid: understanding the healthcare journeys of people living with Long Covid, over a two year period ? A qualitative study

Discipline : Global | Public Health

Avril 2024

Melanie Smallman, Associate Professor, UCL

Titre : Science to the Rescue?

Discipline : Bioethics - Medical ethics

Juillet-août 2024

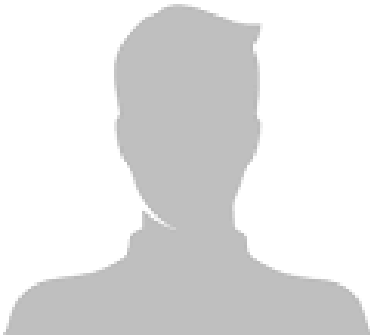

Halina Suwalowska, Dr Research Fellow, University of Oxford

Titre : Exploring ethical issues in the treatment of unidentified dead bodies in global health emergencies

Discipline : Bioethics - Medical ethics

Août-septembre 2024

Kanako Takae, Researcher, Kyoto University

Titre : Uncovering the Moral Implications of Technology: Investigating the Moral Nullification Problem in Bioethics and Animal Ethics

Discipline : Bioethics - Medical ethics

Juillet-août 2024

Anne-Isabelle Thuysbaert, PhD Researcher, Université de Louvain

Titre : The problematization of mechanisms for the prevention, reduction, management, and sanction of obstetric violence as systemic and gender-based violence

Discipline : Bioethics - Medical ethics

Août-septembre 2024

Robert Truog, Director, Center for Bioethics, Harvard Medical School, Harvard University

Titre : Controversies in defining death and organ transplantation

Discipline : Bioethics - Medical ethics

Avril 2024

Lydia Tsiakiri, PhD Student, Aarhus University

Titre : Discrimination against acquired features: An integrated empirical ethics assessment through the lens of a chosen lifestyle compared to an inescapable income

Discipline : Bioethics - Medical ethics

Février 2024

Hannah van Kolschooten, LL.M. , PhD Student, Law Centre For Health and Life, University of Amsterdam

Titre : EU regulation of Artificial Intelligence in Health: Consequences for Patients' Rights

Discipline : Bioethics - Medical Ethics

Avril 2024

Inge van Nistelrooij, Associate Professor and Endowed Professor, University of Humanistic Studies

Titre : The ethical case of maternal relationality: a new turn in care ethics:

Discipline : Bioethics - Medical ethics

Février-mars 2024

Els van Wijngaarden, Associate Professor in Contemporary Meanings of Ageing and Dying, Radboud University Medical Center

Titre : Memento mori revisited: unraveling the complexity of the role of choice regarding death and dying in old age

Discipline : Anthropology

Mars-avril 2024

Rahimzadeh Vasiliki, Assistant Professor, Baylor College of Medicine

Titre : Medicine in the Metaverse

Discipline : Bioethics - Medical Ethics

Avril 2024

Janelle Winters, Postdoctoral Research Associate, University of Oxford

Titre : A risky business: politics, bureaucracy, and the commercialisation of the global clinical trial

Discipline : Bioethics - Medical Ethics

Février-mars 2024

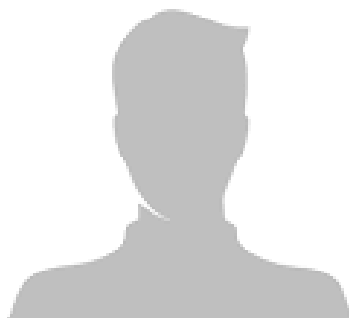

Mahlet Woldetsadik, Health Economist, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention

Titre : A Gender-Responsive Approach to Building Capacity in Global Health Security

Discipline : Global | Public Health

Septembre 2024

Eva-Saine Zehelein, PD Dr., Adjunct professor, University of Bamberg

Titre : Infertility Narratives

Discipline : Anthropology

Avril 2024